Security Division

Quality forensic and security services at a reasonable cost

“Like.... in that old movie
Fantastic Voyage...
McElhatton enters each recreated computer and follows a stranger’s logic along arteries of circuitry, searching for clusters of bad behavior.”

Glover Group Forensic and Security Division is a group of digital investigators with law enforcement and technical experience. We practice the art and science of computer forensics and network security and provide high quality services and advice to the legal and corporate community at reasonable rates.

Above all we are investigators with expertise following leads, handling evidence and testifying in court. You are invited to compare our credentials with practitioners who charge many times our rate. Please feel free to call us at any time for down to earth plain English explanations of our products and processes.
